*Saint Germain, August 13, 2005, below the Temple of the Moon

I now place in the etheric plane upon this forcefield a focus of the Maltese Cross that descends 90 feet into the Earth. Its rays now extend throughout the entire North American continent, Central America and South America. It turns on its axis continuously and is the point of God freedom that I choose to utilize as a focus from this day forward for the conveying of the violet flame and the flame of freedom to Earth's evolutions. You may invoke this forcefield and focus, along with all other dispensations granted by Beloved Oromasis and other masters of the violet flame, for the amplification of your calls to the violet flame. And I ask that at least one keeper of the flame, heartfriend or servitor return to this spot annually to invoke the violet flame here and to reignite this focus of freedom that I have established.
